Re: In the Matter of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I am one of a residential customers with Sonic in San Francisco, CA. Those big players, liked AT&T and Xfinity (formerly Comcast), have almost dominated the Internet market here. I was a customer of AT&T and Xfinity before. However, both companies jacked up the price year after year, while providing the same poor services. Because there is lack of competitive providers. I am glad that Sonic has offered Internet services with competitive pricing. Thus, I have switched to use Sonic Internet service since last year.

While big telephone companies are seeking deregulation for levying a massive price hike on all broadband customers. I would vote "NO" to price hikes, which will increase the cost of internet and telephone services.

I am married with 3 kids in preschool and elementary school. Their schools require them to go to their school web sites for homework and lab work. I frequently need to work from home remotely. For leisure, my family would go to Internet to view videos and to learn new knowledge. Broadband is critical to my family.

We need local competitive provides.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Dennis K
